

No matter our size we all have a place in the world

The Wren's nest in the orchard, so perfect and small.
Magnificent albatross, dustman of the navy
three-metre spanned across the ocean, both calm and cruel.
The wren's nest in the orchard, so perfect and small
such a tiny bird with such a loud trilling call.
Both claim kingship over hedge and sea most bravely,
the Wren's nest in the orchard, so perfect and small
magnificent albatross, dustman of the navy.
